

about christine ameen

Dr. Christine Ameen has spent 25 years assisting non-profit and for-profit organizations anticipate and plan for the future. She is nationally recognized for her work helping organizations respond to the growing trend in outcomes evaluation and quality improvement.

Her work spans education, child welfare, social services, mental health, HIV/AIDS, as well as for-profit and non-profit management. She's brought success to a variety of settings, such as grass roots agencies, state governmental entities, foundations and corporations. She provides training, consultation and technical support to prepare leadership and staff to assess organizational functioning and create strategies for improving services.

Using a special multi-faceted approach, Dr. Ameen gathers feedback and data from a wide variety of audiences to identify the critical issues that must be addressed. She uses teamwork-based strategies to facilitate the organizational discussions necessary to build consensus for moving forward and repositioning the organization for success.

Dr. Ameen has studied and practiced team and staff development strategies throughout her career. She provides training and consultation in team, staff and leadership development, including coaching.

what others have said

"Dr. Ameen conducted highly effective strategic planning for our board and executive staff. Her approach and style engaged and renewed the commitment of each individual to the goals and success of the Ronald McDonald House of Western Michigan."

Robert C. Prevette, JD
Board President
Ronald McDonald House of Western Michigan

"Dr. Ameen was invaluable to us as we developed and refined our CQI processes at Mercy Home. Her adeptness at grasping the distinctive environment of our agency and her respect for our organizational values enabled us to progress more quickly and smoothly through some pretty significant changes. Not only have we developed CQI systems, but we are well on our way to having a firmly rooted 'culture' of quality improvement."

Tim Henry
Director, Quality Improvement
Mercy Home for Boys and Girls

"Dr. Ameen's legacy to the Michigan AIDS Fund is the outcome-based, grant-making approach she created. Her leadership (while she was the interim executive director) with the board and the fund's grantees in setting the stage for this approach has significantly contributed to how people infected and affected with HIV/AIDS are treated."

Glen Jack
Executive Director
Michigan AIDS Fund

Christine A. Ameen, Ed.D
300 Ottawa NW, Suite 600
Grand Rapids, MI 49503
p 616-774-3855 / f 616-451-3312
e ameenca@ameenconsulting.com

helping organizations position themselves for success

ameen consulting & associates

doing the right things. doing things right. sustaining the effort over time.	services	demonstrated commitment to clients
Organizations that grow and prosper don't just talk about change. They create the capacity to change it. Accomplishing that often requires outside expertise. Dr. Christine Ameen has helped dozens of organizations position themselves for success by focusing their leadership and resources on doing the right things, doing those things well, and creating the capacity to sustain those efforts successfully. The success of any organization depends on these principles. Ameen Consulting & Associates, LLC is nationally recognized for helping organizations achieve them.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • A proven, strategic planning approach for organizations or projects to assure you're doing the right things. • Program evaluation, outcome evaluation, and quality improvement design and implementation to assure you're doing things right. • Capacity-building to empower organizations and staff to evaluate, sustain, and grow their programs, including: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Organizational development for projects ranging from organizational assessment, board development/training, performance appraisal system design, to a wide variety of other projects. Staff development, including teamwork development and training. Executive and management leadership development, including coaching and training. Grant-making, including design and implementation of outcomes-based grant-making. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Listening carefully to what clients want and asking questions. • Teaming with leadership and staff members to create solutions. • Using organizational strengths to address organizational challenges. • Wanting what you want – your organization's effectiveness, now and in the future. • Helping meet the diverse challenges of organizational change. • Assuring client satisfaction. mission To provide quality consultant and training services responsive to the client's needs that contribute to the success of the client organization.